Problem at the racetrack is noise, not dust

In a newspaper article this week about the New Jersey Motorsports Park, the only "problem" that racetrack officials mentioned was that of dust.

There was no mention in this article about the Motorsports Park's more serious problem with NOISE that is generated every time there is racing activity. It may be early in the racing year, but this past weekend I was able to hear the sound of racing vehicles at my home in Millville -- three linear miles away from the racetrack. Are racetrack officials hoping this noise problem will just go away by ignoring it?

It's time the city of Millville takes action in correcting this problem, so that local residents can live in the peace and quiet to which we are entitled!
