

News Viewpoint: NJMP noise leaves neighbors fearful

To the Editor:

I live on Cedarville Road, between Millville Airport and Buckshutem Road, and the noise generated from this weekend's race was unbearable.

It sounded like an air raid or war zone in my back yard, not to mention the loudspeakers blasting periodically. I closed all the windows and doors and have 6-inch insulation in my walls, and still could not keep the noise out. There was not a room in my house that I could find to escape the noise, and I became extremely upset and started feeling pressure in my chest from the worry this is causing me.

I cannot believe the city and the racetrack are unaware of the distress this noise is causing the surrounding community, and not do anything about it, or care that it is causing health issues for people that are forced to listen to it.

I am three years away from retirement, and hoped that I could live out the rest of my life in this home. Sunday, all I could think of is selling my house, but I know that no one will buy it with the track noise so close.

I am in a no-win situation, and am extremely upset, and fear for my health from stress of hearing this on a daily basis. What is the track going to do to subdue the noise, and do you even care about those of us that are suffering?
