Quit your wining dude, I'd love to live where you are and be able to access the track so easily. I think you should actually check it out and go to the race yourself, it's way more fun than complaining about it.

They should Put up more walls to block the sound. I love the racetrack, but to be honest it is kinda loud. THE track brings crowds. I just want the problem to be solved so I dont have to hear people trying to shut the track down. JUST DO SOMETHING MILLVILLE!!!!!!

Talking about falling on def ears haha!!!! Or, how about only wanting your voices to be heard hahaha!!!! Sarcasm at it's finest hahah!!! Oh man I did not see those lines coming (and yes that is supposed to be sarcastic).
Here is the best part doll. You know as well as I do that your quest will never find success. You WILL be subjected to the sound regardless of any endeavor. Now the most absolutely, fantastically, and beautiful part about this is.... the noise it's self will not be the straw that broke the camel's back as it were, but in turn, it will be your dedication to the cause. Your ultimate demise will be the anger and hatred that will totally eat you up cause you find your self completely powerless despite the great lengths at which you have gone through. I love watching people gnash their teeth in bitter anger hahaha!!!

I can't help but notice you post these dumb videos, and when people like geckert post an educated comment on here against your fight, you ignore them. Get a better hobby than trying to kill other people's hobby's, maybe you'll enjoy life a little more than just complaining and fighting to destroy things.

get a life you loser. why must people need to bitch about everything. after you complain enough about a race track and close it down are you going to go after the air port? and then the garbage truck? this track brings money into your town. if you don't like it move someplace else.

Can you please take some noise recordings of the planes from the airport that is right next to the racetrack? I think a 1000cc motorcycle or v8 supercar is nothing compared to the helicopes and airplanes that take off from the airport daily. Ive been trackside when they takeoff and cant hear anything, but I may be mistaken.

Do you realize how lucky you are to live in such an area?
If you want to complain so much how about we trade houses, you can live in Court House and I won't have to drive 30 minutes to get to the track.
